

8.0 Clinical Guidelines, Protocols and Flow Charts

All clinical guidelines, protocols and flow charts are there to provide a logical approach to the management of most clinical situations and to guide your decision making. They are being prospectively evaluated and are based on accurate information. However, rigid adherence to these is not absolutely necessary and advice should be sought from senior staff if in doubt.